PROFILE

Experienced Frontend Developer with nearly 2 years of experience in frontend development technologies, specializing in JavaScript with a strong emphasis on Angular as my primary framework, complemented by React.js as a secondary framework.

Skilled in seamlessly integrating frontend with backend systems and proficient in working with APIs to augment functionality and enhance user experience.

Passionate about creating elegant user interfaces that not only captivate visually but also adapt seamlessly across all screen sizes. Proficient in converting designs into interactive, responsive websites with meticulous attention to detail.

Recognized for my exceptional problem-solving abilities and knack for conducting thorough research, consistently delivering innovative solutions to intricate challenges.
